CAST NOTES (by the cast)

ART COREY has appeared previously at FSLT in "Chapter Two" and "Diary of Anne Frank," & has worked backstage on set a props. He is recently married by carrying a mad love affair with the theatre. His biggest talent is painting the higher parts of scenery without standing on a chair.

LESLIE KIDDER would love to live a "pretend" life on stage, but with regrets she lives through stage in her life. She has received two Amoco Awards (ACTF) for her portrayal of Joan of Arc and Jean Brodie; and is currently seeking an agent thus presenting Blanche.

JOHNNY LANDSVERK has been active with FSLT for eleven years. She has served on the Board of Directors, worked backstage and directed; but she has not been seen on stage for several seasons. This explains why.

CINDY CLARK is making her third appearance at FSLT, having appeared in "Private Lives," & "Diary of Anne Frank." She has performed in many WCC productions, the most recent being "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie." She and Rhed were recently married.

RHED KHILLING is making his third appearance at FSLT, having performed in "Cheaper by the Dozen," & "Imaginary Invalid" as well as numerous productions at WCC. He just completed his third season touring with "A Christmas Carol" for Fegan Attractions of Dallas, covering the Eastern part of the US. He presently works at KLMN TV.

MOLLIE GALLAGHER There once was a actress, M. Gallagher.
Who thought that with talent of her Caliber
She could audition each night
To a director's delight.
Now the "casting couch" is the only stage for her.
