FSLT 2026 Season Productions

And Then There Were None

Directed by Micki Voelkel

Evenings: February 19•, 20-21, 25-28

Sunday Matinee: February 22

Ten strangers are summoned to a remote island. Each has a wicked past and a secret that has sealed their fate. One by one they are murdered in accordance with lines of a sinister nursery rhyme. Murder. Mayhem. Agatha Christie at her best.

Drinking Habits

Directed by Jill Ledbetter

Evenings: April 9•, 10-11, 15-18

Sunday Matinee: April 12

Nuns at the Sisters of Perpetual Sewing have been secretly making wine to keep the convent's doors open. But undercover as a nun and a priest, reporters and former lovers Paul and Sally are hot on their trail. Mistaken identities and accusations cause wine and secrets to spill in this laugh out loud comedy.

Last of the Red Hot Lovers

Directed by Kim Pierson

Evenings: May 28•, 29-30, June 3-6

Sunday Matinee: May 31

A middle-aged married man intends on having an affair. He plans three seductions but each is an abysmal failure. One woman is neurotic, one is kooky, and the third is as depressed as he is. Once again, Neil Simon combines wit with wisdom.

The Addams Family Musical

Directed by Eric Wells, Music Dir. Casey Cowan

Evenings: July 16•, 17-18, 22-25, 30-Aug 1

Sunday Matinees: July 19 & 26

This popular modern musical is a comical feast that embraces the wackiness in every family. Wednesday Addams, the ultimate princess of darkness, has grown up and fallen in love with a "normal" young man. Her mother, Morticia, plans a dinner for the boyfriend and his parents, where eccentric and "normal" will collide.

A Streetcar Named Desire

Directed by Scott Black

Evenings: September 24•, 25-26, 30-Oct. 3

Sunday Matinee: September 27

In this Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, Blanche, a fading Southern belle, arrives in New Orleans to reside with her sister, Stella, and Stella's husband, Stanley, who live barely above squalor. Their apartment becomes a pressure cooker of sensuality and class tensions as Stanley blames Blanche for the loss of his wife's inheritance. Tensions ultimately erupt, producing some iconic theatrical scenes.

Silver Belles: A Christmas Comedy

Directed by Jim Moody

Evenings: November 12•, 13-14, 18-21

Sunday Matinee: November 15

As the ladies of Silver Meadows Retirement Home are preparing for Christmas, a scheming mogul plans to evict them and convert their home into a hotel. But when the tycoon's son arrives to deliver the news, he finds his old flame Kate is Silver Meadows' manager. Heartrending and hilarious, the wise and witty Belles deliver laughter, tears, and Christmas magic.

The Wonderettes are entertaining at the annual Harper's Hardware Holiday Party. When Santa turns up missing, the girls use their talent and creative ingenuity to save the holiday party! History of the FSLT Harlequin Man

In the early 1960s, Al Reis, owner of Reis Art Gallery and School, and Jay Anderson, one of his instructors, created the piece of sculpture that has come to be known as the Harlequin Man. It stood outside our first theatre on North “O” Street for more than two decades, and thus became a symbol of FSLT. Unfortunately, over the years, the elements took their toll. When we moved to our current location on North 6th Street, a patron, Louis Robinson, cleaned and repainted it before moving it to our new lobby in 1987. In 1994, thanks to the late Mickey Suggs, the structure was repaired and glass was replaced. In 2013, the Harlequin Man underwent a facelift sponsored by Paula and Steve Sharum. Following repairs made by Bob Wright Stained Glass, the Harlequin Man was then moved to a place of honor as part of our lobby renovation. Positioned on a raised platform in our center window, the colorful symbol of our theatre is now prominently displayed for all FSLT patrons to enjoy.
